For information on the Boston University LL.M. programs, see www.bu.edu/law. Those who complete the Lazarski LL.M. may apply for advanced standing in Boston University's Executive LL.M. In International Business Law or LL.M. in American Law.

The Center for International Legal Studies has more than 5,000 lawyer members throughout the world. The Law Faculty of Lazarski University has been ranked first among Polish law schools for the last three years.

Boston University School of Law was established in 1872, and it ranks in the top 20 among more than 200 US law schools. Eötvös Loránd University was founded in 1635, and it is regarded as the leading law school in Hungary.

The Advantage

The three Central European locations (Budapest, Salzburg, and Warsaw) and the two-week session format provide a great advantage to those who cannot take a year away from their work, who cannot afford a year in the United States, and/or who may have difficulty obtaining a visa to study in the United States. Even in the case of the dual degree option (Lazarski University LL.M. in Transnational Commercial Practice and Boston University Executive LL.M. in International Business Law or LL.M. in American Law), the total tuition is significantly less than the cost a year of LL.M. study undertaken in the United States for a single degree.
